

Δ Δ River ~ in Sumerian script

I was inspired by the eye-opening novel "There are Rivers in the Sky" by the British-Turkish author Elif Shafak

and by the stories of brave people in Texas imprisoned for zines @ PrairieLand

Zine Life

 the zines?
 what are they?
 why RADICAL?
 how do you get started?

zines are self-published and non-commercial WHETHER you count clay tablets from Mesopotamia, Martin Luther's theses or don't start counting until science fiction fanzines of the 1930s

Sumerian for the deep water from underground
 "water" ab
 "deep" zu
 aquifers, all lakes, rivers, fountains, streams, oceans, rain, and springs originate from abzu zines have been the ~ printed ~ voice of the (relatively) voiceless for a long time zines require no agents, publishing houses, book proposals, or million instagram followers to be published //

~ disseminated, read and enjoyed!

~~$$$ SUBSCRIBERS ONLY PAY THIS POINT~~

zines are meant to SHARE your story, your knowledge, your perspective — to make your community RESILIENT what if you sat with your friends at the food cart OR on a bench by the River making zines instead of scrolling??
